2017 was a year of milestones

For risk-fraught investment classes, 2017 turned out to be a particularly friendly year. The markets were again buoyed by cheap money policy and a continuation of very low interest rates. Several stock markets attained historic highs while volatility dropped to record lows. Credit risk premiums in the investment grade and also sub-investment grade domains narrowed further and also traded at extremely low levels. Even the interest rate turnaround initiated in the USA did not cloud market sentiment because the US central bank had given the investor community ample notice with its forward guidance. Especially in the second half of the year, strong corporate and business metrics provided additional support. Within the year, the equity markets rose continuously because investors bought on smaller setbacks, confident that the central banks would intervene in the case of a tail risk event as they had repeatedly done in the past ten years.

Global stocks (MSCI World EUR Hedged) gained 16.8% in 2017. The technology sector was clearly the main performance driver here.

In 2017, it was politics rather than business that created uncertainty. This included uncertain consequences of the new US President's agenda, the implementation of Brexit, the outcome of the elections in Germany, the rekindled North Korea tensions, and new sanctions against Russia.

The euro gained considerable ground against most currencies (+14% versus the USD) while the trade-weighted USD dropped by 6.9%.

Convertible bond market

2017 was also a reassuring year for convertible bonds. Thanks to positive equity markets and narrower credit risk premiums, the global convertible bond market (Thomson Reuters Global Focus CB Index EUR H) advanced by +4.4%. Large regional performance disparities were noted. While currency-hedged US convertible bonds closed the year under review with an impressive gain of +9.3%, European convertibles ended it with a red zero (-0.0%), Asian (+5.5%) and Japanese (+5.0%) convertible bonds ranked in the middle range. With its high technology and pharma/biotech weighting, the very stock-sensitive US convertible bond market profited most from the positive stock markets. In December, Europe experienced a painful setback with Steinhoff (about 2.1% index weight). The convertible bonds of the furniture dealer, rated investment grade at the time, lost more than 50% of its value when balance sheet doctoring was published in the news. This painfully reminded some investors about the importance of risk diversification and illustrated that even an investment grade ranking does not provide absolute safety.

Activity report

Last year, the primary market for convertible bonds posted 194 new issues with a total volume of USD 74.5 billion. This contrasts against redemptions and conversions worth USD 65.6 billion. Since the brisk issue activity involved several sectors, this resulted not only in an enlargement but also in a better mix of the investment universe. In Europe, however, "non-diluting" convertibles remained popular.

An average, at the end of a year, the convertible bond market is fairly valued and was thus priced slightly higher within 12 months. Regional valuation differences are stubborn (USA and Europe too expensive, Japan fair, and Asia too cheap). Convertible bonds with an investment grade rating and a balanced profile are currently being endorsed by the market with a valuation premium of 4 to 5%. Conversely, convertible bonds outside the habitual indices or sub-IG convertibles are trading fair or even at a discount off the theoretically fair value.

2017 fund performance

In 2017, the fund (-EUR-A- unit class) generated +5.72% absolute performance. Due to the interest rate turnaround in the USA, the USD interest differential versus EUR and CHF interest rates increased. In particular, this noticeably changed the appeal of certain convertible bonds after currency hedges. After consideration of currency hedges, the annual performance was composed of price gains (+5.0%) and coupon earnings (+0.7%).

From a regional standpoint, the USA (+2.1%) contributed most to the fund's overall performance, followed by Asia (+1.8%), Europe (+0.9%), and Japan (+0.8%).

Region	Price Return	Interest Income	Total Return
Asia	+1.64	+0.16%	+1.80%
Europe	+0.58%	+0.31%	+0.89%
Japan	+0.79%	+0.00%	+0.79%
Other	+0.04%	+0.11%	+0.15%
USA	+1.92%	+0.16%	+2.09%
Total	+4.98%	+0.74%	+5.72%

Information technology, industry, and cyclical consumption contributed most to performance, while energy, staple consumption, and healthcare provided marginally positive contributions.

The fund was able to beat its reference index (Thomson Reuters Global Focus Convertible Bond Index EUR H) by +1.3% in the year under review, alongside lower volatility (3.4% versus 4.0%). Strong bond picking (+1.7%) more than offset the top-down positioning (-0.4%) that ran against us. US underweighting (delta-adjusted US share in the fund of about 30% as opposed to 40% in the index) had a negative impact on relative performance because US convertibles again posted the largest value gain. Conversely, the preference for attractively valued non-benchmark names as well as Asian convertibles with an attractive risk/reward profile proved to be advantageous. About 55% of the fund's positions are not index-weighted. The fund's performance was broadly based: the five best/worst positions contributed +1.5% and -0.9%, respectively.

Outlook and current positioning

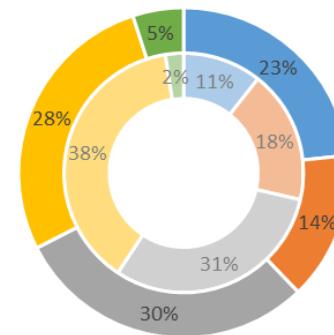

We remain constructively focused on risk-fraught investment classes. In particular, this reflects solid business growth and strong corporate metrics supported by a still relatively accommodative monetary policy and low interest rates in Europe and Japan. However, greater volatility can be expected as well. In this environment, convertible bonds are attractive instruments because, due to the conversion right, they can let the investor participate in positive stock market phases. On the other hand, due to short durations, they are less exposed to interest rate fluctuations and can benefit when credit risk premiums narrow down further. Moreover, non-benchmark paper often trades at less than its theoretically fair value, which should normalize in the course of time. The largest valuation discrepancies can still be observed in Asian convertible bonds.

We do not expect major changes as regards the fund's top-down allocation. Our investment objective is still to provide a broadly diversified and balanced portfolio for global convertible bonds, always with a focus on the risks that are involved.

Activity report

Tangible risks

Risks that can have an adverse effect on the performance of the fund's assets include (worst first):

Stock price losses

quite high correlation with the fund's assets

Expansion of credit spreads

negative impact on bond floor

Currency translation risks

The fund's assets are currently forex-hedged to over 95% A softening versus other fund currencies can have a negative impact on the fund's assets.

Liquidity risks

If risk aversion rises in the financial markets, the liquidity and thus sellability of individual picks may decline perceptibly, which can have a negative impact on pricing.

Interest rate risks

The duration of the portfolio (roughly 1.5 years) is relatively short, so that interest-rate changes do not constitute a major risk.

Legal advisory

The historic performance of a unit is no guarantee of similar current and future performance. The value of a unit may rise or fall at any time. Additionally, the performance data does not account for commissions and costs associated with the issue and redemption of units.

TER

A synthetic TER is calculated if units of other funds (target funds) are acquired in volumes of at least 10% of the fund's assets. The TER of the fund reflects the costs directly incurred at the level of the fund and - in the case of a synthetic TER - the additional pro-rata TERs of the respective target funds weighted by their quotas on the closing date as well as the actually paid issue premiums and redemption charges of the target funds.

Supplementary information

Publication of the UCITS	The prospectus, the Key Investor Information Document (KIID), the trust agreement and Annex A "The UCITS at a glance" as well as the latest annual and semi-annual reports if already published, are available free of charge on a durable data medium from the management company, the depositary, the paying agents, and all domestic and foreign distributors as well as on the website of the LAFV Liechtenstein Investment Fund Association at www.lafv.li .
TER calculation	The TER has been calculated as illustrated in CESR guideline 09-949 and defined in CESR guideline 09-1028 (ongoing charges)
Transaction costs	The transaction costs include all costs incurred, separately disclosed or booked by the fund in the financial year, which are directly related to the purchase or sale of fund assets.
Valuation principles	The assets of the UCITS are valued according to the following principles: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Securities that are officially traded on a stock exchange are valued at the last available price. If a security is officially traded at several exchanges, the last available price shall be the price at the exchange that represents the main market for that security. 2. Securities that are not officially listed on an exchange but are traded on a market accessible to the public are valued at the last available price. 3. Securities or money market instruments with a residual duration of less than 397 days can be valued by linear depreciation or appreciation with the difference between the cost (purchase) price and the repurchase price (price on maturity). The valuation at the current market price can be omitted if the repurchase price is known and fixed. Credit-rating changes, if any, shall be accounted for additionally. 4. Investments whose price is not in conformity with the market, and assets that do not fall under nos. 1, 2, and 3 above, are calculated at the price that would have most likely been attained if the investment had been sold with due diligence at the time of valuation and is determined in good faith by the Executive Board or under their direction or supervision by authorized agents. 5. OTC derivatives shall be valued on a day to day basis with the then probably attainable sales price using a verifiable valuation model specified in good faith by the management company which is in line with generally recognized valuation models that can be validated by auditors. 6. UCITS or undertakings for collective investment (UCI) shall be valued at the last noted and available repurchase price. If the repurchase of units is suspended or if the UCI is closed and no redemption right exists or if no repurchase prices are specified, these units shall be valued, as all other assets, at their then applicable market value as determined by the management company in good faith and in accordance with generally recognized valuation models that can be validated by auditors. 7. If no trading price is available for the respective assets, they shall be valued, as is the case with the other legally permissible assets, at their then applicable market value as determined by the management company in good faith and in accordance with generally recognized valuation models that can be validated by auditors. 8. Cash and cash equivalents shall be valued at the par value plus accrued interest.

Supplementary information

	9. The market value of securities and other investments denominated in a currency other than the currency of the UCITS shall be converted into the currency of the UCITS at the last known average exchange rate. The valuation process is handled by the management company. The management company shall be entitled to use other reasonable valuation principles to value the assets of the UCITS if, as a result of extraordinary circumstances, valuation on the basis of the criteria described above should become impossible or impracticable. Information for investors in the United Kingdom

1. Sales restrictions

The UCITS is a recognised investment scheme in the United Kingdom ("UK") as of the effective date indicated by the Financial Services Authority in the UK ("UK FSA") within the meaning of Section 264 of the UK Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 in its respective valid version ("FSMA"). This prospectus is being issued in the UK by the UCITS. Accordingly, the UCITS may be marketed to the general public in the UK. Certain rules made under the FSMA for the protection of private investors are not applicable to investments in the UCITS. Compensation under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme will generally not be available.

UCITS units confer rights vis-a-vis the UCITS in accordance with the constituting documents of the UCITS. Amongst other rights, investors shall have the right to be informed about significant events in the operation of the UCITS and shall have the right to require the Management Company to supply at any time the necessary information regarding the basis upon which the issue and redemption of units are to be calculated.

In conjunction with the recognition of the UCITS under Section 264 of the FSMA, the UCITS shall maintain the facilities required of a recognised scheme by the rules contained in the UK FSA's New Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook, at the offices of Société Générale Securities Services, Exchange House, 12 Primrose Street, London EC2A 2EG, UK. Such facilities enable, inter alia:

- a) an investor to redeem his UCITS units and to obtain the payment of the price upon redemption;
- b) information to be obtained in English orally and in writing about the most recently published unit prices;
- c) any person who has a complaint to make about the operation of the UCITS to submit this complaint in writing for presentation to the UCITS; and
- d) the inspection (free of charge) and the obtaining (free of charge in the case of Figs. 3., 4. and 5. below, and otherwise at no more than a reasonable charge) of copies in English of:
 1. the founding documents of the UCITS;
 2. any documents relating to the amendment of the founding documents of the UCITS;
 3. the contractual conditions;
 4. the prospectus,
 5. the Key Investor Information Document (KIID), and
 6. the latest annual and semi-annual reports.

2. Tax issues relating to the UCITS and the investors

Dividends and other distributions made by a UCITS as well as payments of the proceeds of the sale or the redemption of fund units are subject (depending on the investment portfolio of the UCITS) to withholding tax or to a cross-border system of providing information on the basis of the Directive 2003/48/EC of the EU Council of 3 June 2003 for the purpose of taxing savings income ("Savings Income Directive") if payments are made to unit holders (or to a "residual entity" established in a member state) who are natural persons domiciled in an EU member state, and these payments are made by a payment agent in another EU member state. Certain other countries (including Switzerland) have or are planning to introduce a corresponding withholding tax or notification system in respect of payments made by a payment agent.

This summary should not be taken to constitute legal or tax advice, and any prospective Shareholder should consult their own professional advisers as to the UK tax treatment of returns from the holding of Shares in the UCITS.

The UCITS

The UCITS is planning to manage and to conduct its transactions in such a way that it does not become resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes. This consequently means that the UCITS is not subject to United Kingdom corporation tax or income tax on its profits – provided the UCITS is not distributed in the United Kingdom through fixed places of business or agents constituting a "permanent establishment" for United Kingdom taxation purposes, and that all trading transactions in the United Kingdom are performed through a broker or investment manager whose regular exercise of his activities has an independent status. Both the UCITS as well as the Management Company are planning to settle the respective UCITS transactions in such a way that these criteria are met, insofar as this is within their respective control. At the same time, however, it is not possible to guarantee that the necessary conditions will be fulfilled at all times.

Certain interest and other income generated by the UCITS which has a United Kingdom source may be subject to withholding tax in the United Kingdom.

Investors

Subject to their personal circumstances, investors in the fund resident in the United Kingdom for taxation purposes will be liable to United Kingdom income tax or corporation tax in respect of their units in the UCITS – irrespective of whether such income is distributed or reinvested.

The Offshore Funds (Tax) Regulations in force in the United Kingdom at the time of the respective sale, of the respective redemption or alienation provide that if a participant holds an interest in an offshore fund, and that if this offshore fund does not qualify as a reporting fund, then all earnings accruing to the investor at the time of the sale, or the redemption or any other alienation of this participation (which may also include a redemption by the UCITS) shall be taxed as income ("offshore income gain") and not as a capital gain. Insofar as a participant holds an interest in an offshore fund, and that offshore fund qualifies as a reporting fund, any gain accruing to the investor upon the sale, redemption or other alienation of that interest (which may include a redemption by the Fund) will be taxed at the time of the sale, redemption or alienation as a capital gain.

In the case of umbrella structures, each part of the umbrella structure is to be treated as a separate entity. In addition, each participation class constitutes a separate participation in an offshore fund within the meaning of the provisions.

The Management Company of the UCITS is planning to apply to be certified as a reporting UCITS fund and to meet the annual reporting requirements that such certification requires.

Specific information for individual countries of distribution

Obtaining certification as a reporting fund would require investors to be subject to income tax on their share of the reporting fund's income attributable to them on an annual basis, whether or not this was distributed. Gains arising out of the alienation of their participations would be subject to capital gains tax. In calculating the gain arising out of the alienation, a sum equal to the offshore income gain shall be deducted from the amount or value, representing the equivalent of the alienation.

Persons within the United Kingdom who are subject to corporation tax should note that the regime for taxation of most corporate bonds contained in Section 5 of the Corporation Tax Act 2009 ("loan relationship regime") provides that, if at any time in an accounting period such a person holds an interest in an offshore fund within the meaning of the corresponding provisions in Section 6 of the Corporation Tax Act 2009, and if there is a time in this period when this UCITS fails to satisfy the "qualifying investments test", the interest held by this person will be treated for that accounting period as it were rights under a creditor relationship for the purposes of the loan relationships regime." An offshore fund fails to satisfy the "qualifying investments test" insofar as more than 60% of its assets by market value at any one time comprise government and corporate bonds, cash deposits, specific derivative contracts or participations in other collective investment vehicles which at any time during the relevant accounting period do not themselves satisfy the "qualifying investments test". In this case, the units constitute participations in an offshore fund and, on the basis of the investment policies of the UCITS, the UCITS could invest more than 60% of its assets in government and corporate bonds, cash deposits, specific derivative contracts or participations in other vehicles for collective investment which at any time during the relevant accounting period do not themselves satisfy the "qualifying investments test", with the result that the UCITS could fail to satisfy the "qualifying investments test". If this is the case, then the units shall be treated for corporation tax purposes as being within the "loan relationship regime", meaning that all returns on these units in respect of such a person's accounting period (including gains, profits and losses) will be taxed or relieved as income or expenses, and will be revalued on a daily basis. Accordingly, such a person who acquires units in the UCITS may, depending on their circumstances, incur a corporation tax charge for unrealised gains in the value of their fund units (by the same token, they may obtain corporation tax relief on an unrealised reduction of their fund units).

The attention of natural persons ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes is drawn to Section II of Part XIV of the Income Taxes Act 2007, which may render them liable for income tax in respect of undistributed investment fund income.

The attention of companies resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes is drawn to the fact that the "controlled foreign companies" legislation contained in Section IV of Part XVII of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act may be applicable to any company based in the United Kingdom which is, either alone or together with persons associated with it for taxation purposes, deemed to have an interest of 25% or more in any possible taxable profits of the UCITS during an accounting period, insofar as the UCITS is simultaneously controlled by persons (companies, natural persons or others) within the meaning of the definition set out under Section 755D of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act, who are resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes; this also applies insofar as the UCITS is controlled by two persons jointly, one of whom is resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes and has at least 40% of the interests, rights and powers by which these persons control the UCITS, and the other of whom has at least 40% (not more than 55%) of such interests, rights and powers . The "taxable profits" of the UCITS do not encompass its capital gains. These provisions could mean that such UCITS in the United Kingdom are subject to corporation tax in respect of undistributed fund income.

Transfers of units are not subject to stamp duty in the United Kingdom – unless the instrument for a transfer of this nature is applied in the United Kingdom, insofar as the transfer is subject to an ad valorem stamp duty of 0.5% of the paid performance, whereby this sum shall be rounded off to the nearest five pounds. No "stamp duty reserve tax" is payable on such transfers or agreements to perform such transfers.

The Board of Directors is further responsible for selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Responsibility of the independent auditor

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the accounting information of these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Liechtenstein law and the auditing standards promulgated by the Liechtenstein profession. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers the internal control system relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control system. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the accounting information of the financial statements give a true and fair view of the statement of assets of the H.A.M Global Convertible Bond Fund as of 31 December 2017 and of the results of its operations and changes in its net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Liechtenstein legal requirements and directives relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.
